For the tenth consecutive year, fifteen members of the Denville, NJ Valleyview Middle School Mock Trial Club presented their original legal cases to a packed house of friends and family members at Denville Municipal Building. With assistance from Einhorn Barbarito Partner & Mock Trial Club Attorney Adviser Timothy J. Ford, and Valleyview Middle School Teacher-Librarian Marian Lezgus, Valleyview 7th and 8th grade students researched, wrote, analyzed and edited their cases based on the rules posted by the New Jersey State Bar Foundation's Law Adventure Experience.
