New Jersey Injury Attorneys

An injury, even a temporary one, can have a devastating effect on finances, family, and work. At Einhorn Barbarito our personal injury and workers' compensation attorneys understand the difficulties that injured people face and how important it is to obtain the best possible outcome.

We build a client's case from intake to trial, using the most effective legal strategies and techniques available. Our department includes attorneys who are certified by the N.J. Supreme Court as Civil Trial attorneys and Worker's Compensation attorneys.

Our team works diligently to help injured clients obtain a favorable settlement or alternatively, to bring their cases to trial and seek appropriate compensation through the jury system.

Millions of dollars have been recovered for our clients who were involved in motor vehicle accidents and sustained other personal injuries as a result of dangerous or defective products or hazardous conditions in the workplace or at a residential property.
