

YOUR HOMETOWN Lawyers

COMPREHENSIVE FULL-SERVICE LAW FIRM DEVOTED TO SERVING A BROAD RANGE OF LEGAL NEEDS

How many times have you received a friend's referral to a legal professional who isn't geographically convenient to you? How often have you decided that you didn't want to travel any appreciable distance no matter how strong the referral?

With the availability and increased usage of video conferencing, document sharing, e-signatures, follow/forward of calls to mobile phones and other forms of electronic communication, all the attorneys at Einhorn Barbarito are your HOMETOWN New Jersey attorneys, no matter where you are at this time. What used to be a planned trip to the office (with business meetings or childcare that had to be altered), can now be accomplished face to face with a video conference without ever leaving your home or office. Computer screens can be shared to craft and co-edit documents without long email chains. This enhances personal interaction between client and attorney and makes it more convenient at the same time. Documents that only weeks ago were sent for signature in emails that required printing, signing, rescanning, re-faxing or emailing now can be sent through secure electronic signature portals to both enhance communication and ensure that your legal needs are met even during this unprecedented time. Although our communities are sheltering at home, our lawyers remain completely accessible. The advantages of being able to speak to your attorney face to face cannot be understated. The personal interaction between client and attorney – so essential to the professional relationship – and which is core to our firm's culture, is still available at this time through technology. Confidentiality is an ethical obligation and we take every action available to us to preserve and maintain it. We are with you every step of the way.

Our firm handles a wide spectrum of cases, from the straightforward to the complex. We represent a diverse base of clients from individuals and families to public and private companies, entrepreneurs and long-standing institutions. Across the board, each client consistently receives an exceptional level of service and legal counsel. Our multi-disciplinary team and exemplary support staff are using the tools available to provide counsel, and we are dedicated to providing the best possible outcomes for all of our clients' matters. You can contact us by phone, email, or you can set up a virtual consultation or meeting, and our response will be prompt. We are here to be your advocates, and to offer our knowledge, experience and approachability to help you through these times.
