

History

History...and the Future

More than 50 years ago, Einhorn, Barbarito, Frost & Botwinick, PC began with just a few lawyers with a strategic vision. We have grown, and we fervently champion the causes of our clients. Brick by brick we grew into larger office space, always remaining loyal to our roots in Denville, New Jersey. Our leaders carefully and methodically built Einhorn Barbarito into the law firm we are today, placing great importance on the talent of our attorneys and their ability to manage cases with insight, creativity and an understanding of human emotion.

With a unique blend of talent, skill, and experience, Einhorn Barbarito lawyers are not your typical lawyers. Our legal team has been appointed to leadership positions in the legal community and received some of the highest honors and awards from industry leaders, organizations and various media outlets. Our treasured reputation is rooted in a performance that has built long-lasting relationships with our clients. That doesn't happen by chance. It happens because we are good at what we do. We respect our clients and the law.

Our senior attorneys and partners mentor our younger associates, and likewise, the newer lawyers bring modern ideas to further expand the firm's capabilities and use of technology. We do not rest on our laurels. This is a firm that continues to evolve and shape itself with the sole intention of doing the best legal work on behalf of our clients.
