

Partner Patricia Barbarito Named to Chambers & Partners' 2022 High Net Worth Guide

Einhorn, Barbarito, Frost & Botwinick is proud to announce that co-managing partner Patricia “Pat” Barbarito has been included in the 2022 High Net Worth Guide by Chambers & Partners. This marks Pat’s debut in the Family/Matrimonial category of the guide, which ranks the leading lawyers and law firms providing counsel in the complex world of international private wealth. Due to their stringent nomination and review process, Chambers awards are a highly respected and objective measurement of legal ability and industry standing that cannot be purchased or otherwise influenced.

“We are delighted that Pat’s many years of service to our own high net worth clients has been recognized by such a prestigious publication,” said Gary Botwinick, co-managing partner of Einhorn, Barbarito, Frost & Botwinick and chair of the firm’s Trust & Estates practice. “She has been a major contributor to the field of matrimonial law and has been involved in many high-profile and complex financial matters. With every client, she provides intellectual and compassionate guidance, a deep understanding of complicated assets and compensation structures, and an unwavering commitment to zealous advocacy.”

A formidable trial lawyer and astute advisor, Pat provides strategic legal counsel to those facing a variety of relationship concerns, including executive divorces, sensitive custody arrangements, parenthood for same-sex couples, domestic violence, and more.

While serving her own clients, Pat has been instrumental in building Einhorn Barbarito into the full-service retail law firm it is today and continues to lead as co-managing partner and Chair of the firm’s Board of Directors. Einhorn Barbarito remains one of the few law firms in New Jersey to have a woman at the helm.
