Patricia (Patti) Veres has built her career on an extensive trial and appellate practice with an emphasis on family law issues including divorce, custody, support, domestic violence, and related matters. Patti enthusiastically represents her clients from the most straightforward of matters to the most complex, high conflict, high asset cases, involving valuation of corporate interests, and the employment of custody and other experts. She is highly regarded for her keen attention to detail and her ability to strategically identify the most critical issues for resolution. A determined litigator, Patti is also empathetic to her clients' goals, financial realities, and their peace of mind. Her clients' needs and attainable goals are always the highest priority.

From 1999-2003 Patti was an associate with Einhorn Barbarito Frost & Botwinick; thereafter she was the founding partner of Veres & Riordan, LLC, where she exclusively practiced family law. She rejoined Einhorn Barbarito Frost & Botwinick in 2020.
